

EXPENSES FOR PASTOR NOMINATING COMMITTEE

All expenses of the Pastor Nominating Committee (for phone calls, travel for interviews, candidate's expenses, secretarial service, postage) should be met by your church.

The moving costs of a new minister should be met by your church, or in cases of great distance, up to any limit agreed to by the Pastor Nominating Committee and the candidate.

In services of ordination and installation, members of presbytery serve as an expression of their service to the church at large. In the cases where persons come from outside the bounds of the presbytery, their expenses (travel, necessary supply of their own pulpit, entertainment, etc.) should be borne by the host church.
